GREAT BRITAIN JUSTIFIES HER INTERFERENCE WITH COMMERCE OF NEUTRALS AS WHOLLY LEGAL

"Unsustainable Either in Point of Law or Upon ciples of International Equity," is the British Reply to meri-can Protest Against Blockade of Neutral — Contention as to Orders in Council Rejected.

BRITISH REPLY IN TWO NOTES MADE PUBLIC IN AMERICA AND LONDON AT THE SAME TIME

Reiterate That Great Britain Will Continue to Apply the Orders Complained Of, Although Not Without Every Effort to Avoid Embarrassment to Neutrals—Changed Conditions Warrant New Application.

Washington, Aug 3. — Great Britain's replies to the latest American representations against interference with neutral commerce reject entirely the contention that the orders in council are illegal and justify the British course as being wholly within international law.

"Unsustainable either in point of law or upon principles of international equity," is the British reply to the American protest against the blockade of neutral ports, with an invitation to submit to international arbitration any cases in which the United States is dissatisfied with the action of British prize courts.

Great Britain's reply, in two notes, was made public here tonight, and in London, simultaneously, by agreement between the governments. With the note was made public also the correspondence over the American steamer Neches, seized by the British while en route from Rotterdam to the United States with goods of German origin.

Changed conditions of warfare, the British note contends, require a new application of the principles of international law. The advent of the submarine, the airship and the alleged atrocities by German troops in Belgium, are cited as justification for the exercise of extreme measures. The blockade is justified on the contention that the universally recognized fundamental principle of a blockade is that a belligerent is entitled to cut off "by effective means the sea borne commerce of his enemy."

The note reiterates that Great Britain will continue to apply the orders complained of, although not without every effort to avoid embarrassment to neutrals, and observes that the American statistics show that any loss in trade with Germany and Austria has been more than overbalanced by the increase of other industrial activities due to the war.

Old Principles Modernized

In the general reply to the American representations against the orders in council, Sir Edward Grey, the foreign minister, addressing Ambassador Page, begins by expressing the hope that he may be able to convince the administration in Washington "that the measures we have announced are not only reasonable and necessary in themselves but constitute no more than an adaptation of the old principles of blockade to the peculiar circumstances with which we are confronted."

"I need scarcly dwell," wrote Sir Edward, "on the obligations incumbent upon the Allies to take every step in their power to overcome their common enemy in view of the shocking violation of the recognized rules and principles of civilized warfare of which he has been guilty during the present struggle."

Sir Edward refers to atrocities in Belgium, poisoning of wells in German Southwest Africa, use of poisonous gases against the allied troops in Flanders and the sinking of the Lusitania, to show "how indispensable it is that we should leave unused no justifiable methods of defending ourselves".

Blockade of Neutral Ports

Taking up the question of the allied blockade of neutral ports the note continues:

"In the various notes which I have received from Your Excellency, the right of a belligerent to establish a blockade of the enemy ports is admitted, a right which has obviously no value save insofar as it gives power to a belligerent to cut off the sea-borne exports and imports of his enemy. The contention which I understand the United States government now puts forward is that if a belligerent is so circumstanced that his commerce can pass through adjacent neutral ports as easily as through ports in his own territory, his opponent has no right to interfere and must restrict his measures of blockade in such a manner as to leave such avenues of commerce still open to his adversary: . This is a contention which His Majesty's government felt unable to accept and which seems to them if the circumstances render such an apupon principles of international equity.

"They are unable to admit that a belligerent violates any fundamental principle of international law by applying a blockade in such a way as to cut off the enemy's commerce with foreign countries through neutral ports, if the circumstaices render such an application of the principles of blockade the only means of making it effective. The government of the United States, indeed, intimates its readiness to take into account "the great changes which have occurred in the conditions and means of naval warfare since the rules hitherto governing legal blockade were formulated" and recognized that "the form of close blockade with its cordon of ships in the immediate offeing of the blockaded ports is no longer practicable in the face of an enemy possessing the means and opportunity to make an effective defense by the use of submarines, mines and aircraft".

"The only question, then, which can arise in regard to the measures resorted to for the purpose of carrying out a blockade upon these extended lines is, whether, to use Your Excellency's words, they conform to the spirit and principles of the essence of the rules of war and we shall be content to apply this test to the action which we have taken insofar as it has necessitated interference with neutral commerce".

Civil War Blockade

Sir Edward then refers to the American civil war blockade of 3,000 miles of coast with a small number of vessels, and recalls how the United States finally took recourse to blockading "neighboring neutral territory which afforded convenient centers from which contraband could be introduced into Confederate teritory and from which blockade running could be facilitated".

"Your Excellency will no doubt remember", wrote Sir Edward, "how, in order to meet this new difficulty, the old principles relating to contraband and blockade were developed and the doctrine of continuous voyage was applied and enforced, under which goods destined for the enemy territory were intercepted before they reached neutral ports from which they were to be re-exported.

"The difficulties imposed upon the United States of the necessity of reshaping some of the old rules are somewhat akin to those with which the Allies are now faced in dealing with the trade of their enemy. Adjacent to Germany are various neutral countries which afford convenient opportunities for carrying on her trade with foreign countries. Her own territories are covered by a net work of railways and waterways, which enable her commerce to pass as conveniently through ports in such neutral countries as through her own. A blockade limited to enemy ports would leave open routes by which every kind of German commerce could pass almost as easily as through the ports in her own territory.

"Rotterdam is indeed the nearest outlet for some of the industrial districts of Germany. * * * It seems, accordingly, that if it be recognized that a blockade is in certain cases the appropriate method of intercepting the trade of an enemy country, and if the blockade can only become effective by extending it to enemy commerce passing through neutral ports, such an extension is defensible and in accordance with the principles which have met with general acceptance".

British Ship Springbok

The note then refers to the British ship Springbok, seized by United States cruisers during the Civil war while bound for the British West Indies, because her cargo, it was charged, was to be trans-shipped to the Confederate states. The Supreme Court of the United States sustained the seizure against the condemnation of a group of permanent international lawyers ,although

COTTON PROBLEM WORRIES BRITAIN

Notes Cover All Other Phases of Controversy.

COTTON NOTE IS LIKELY

Decision to Leave Cotton Off the Contraband List Not Irrevocable, But Might Cause Still More Trouble.

London, Aug. 3.—The diplomatic correspondence between London and Washington concerning delays to American commerce and the orders in council will be published here tomorrow morning. The foreign office explains that all phases of the controversy between the two countries, except with regard to cotton, are covered in the notes, and that when a decision is arrived at on the cotton situation, a note on this subject possibly will be sent to Washington.

No question at this time is giving the government here more vexatious moments than cotton. The government has indicated that its decision not to treat the staple as contraband is not irrevocable, but it is not yet convinced that the proposed alternative might not cause more trouble and friction than the present system of detaining cotton which is suspected of having an enemy destination.

The correspondence concerning the seizure of the American steamer Neches, while bound from Rotterdam to the United States with a cargo of Belgian and German goods, already has been followed by positive results as several of the consignments originating in Belgium which were aboard that steamer have been released and handed over to the American claimants.

Official circles here are not optimistic that the British replies will end the shipping controversy, but it is felt that the negotiations will not come to an impasse.

VICTORY FOR "DRYS" IN VIRGINIA IS INDICATED

Returns From Primary Election Very Incomplete Last Night.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 3. — With many wires down and large portions of the State unheard from, as the result of a storm, results of the primary election for nominations to the House and Senate are in doubt. Returns so far received show that the "drys" have won and will easily have a working majority in both branches of the General Assembly for the enactment of laws to carry out the provisions of the Enabling act, passed at a general election last year. Several leaders of the "wets" in both Senate and House have been defeated.

Baltimore, Aug. 3. — St. Mary's county, Southern Maryland, in which there is a large negro population, today voted "dry." Of the 23 counties in the State 13 now are wholly or in greater part "dry."

EVEN TAR HEELS AMONG THE DELINQUENT ONES

Fail to Repay Uncle Sam for Money Advanced in Europe.

Unless They "Come Across" and Refund Money Loaned When They Were Stranded, Proceedings Will be Started.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3. — Unless some fifty or more North Carolinians who were brought back to this country last year from different parts of Europe make immediate arrangements to pay the United States government money advanced them to return home, United States Attorneys Hammer and Winston will be instructed to begin proceedings to compel them to do so.

The law appropriating the money for the relief of Americans in Europe provides that the government should be reimbursed by all Americans who were able to do so. According to information furnished the Department of Justice, many people with comfortable incomes have either failed or refused to repay Uncle Sam for his kindness.

The government has decided to compel the able ones to "come across," and proceedings will be begun in the courts in the near future and the names of the delinquents made public.

Thousands of dollars were advanced by the government to Americans in Europe soon after the war started. Aid was extended to people in all sections of the country, and the proceedings to be started by the Department of Justice will affect every State in the Union.

SEES RUSSIA AND GERMANY UNITED AGAINST AMERICA

Senator J. Ham. Lewis Addresses State Bar Association at Asheville.

NO AID FROM ENGLAND

Proposes Pan-American Alliance for Protection of Republican Form.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 3. — The prediction that Russia, Germany, Japan and China would some time be arrayed in arms against the United States, and that this country could not look for aid from England, or, under conditions like those at present, from South American powers, was made tonight in an address by Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, before the State Bar Association of North Carolina. His subject was "America as the International Law-Giver of the World Tomorrow."

In preparation for such an eventuality, Senator Lewis proposed calling a council of all the governments of South America, and then by "alliance make common cause for the protection of republican form of government in the western hemisphere."

Tribute to Governor Jarvis.

At their morning meeting today, the attorneys heard the address of Judge W. P. Bynum, of Greensboro, who discussed "Law in Its Relation to Economic Freedom and Morality."

Although the deceased was not a member of the Bar Association, the lawyers of the State this morning adopted resolutions deploring the death of former Governor Thomas J. Jarvis and extending to the widow of the deceased the sympathy of the members of the organization. The resolution was introduced by Justice W. A. Hoke, who took occasion to pay a warm tribute to the deceased and who declared that North Carolina has suffered in his passing. The speaker said that Mr. Jarvis was greatly interested in the work of the Bar Association and reminded his hearers of the fact that the deceased had addressed them on a number of occasions.

In the report of the committee on memorials, resolutions were adopted expressing regret at the death of the following who have passed since the last annual meeting:

Henry T. Powell, of Henderson; A. B. Vanburen, of Wilmington; A. E. Gillard, of Plymouth; W. C. Maxwell, of Charlotte; F. A. Woodard, of Wilson; S. A. Woodard, of Wilson, and Elijah Moffitt, of Ashboro.

Frank S. Spruill, of Rocky Mount, on the program to speak at the morning's meeting, was unable to appear, a message from his bed side being to the effect that he is quite ill.

Senator Lewis' Address

Declaring that Russia had a grievance against this country in connection with the disruption of the Commercial treaty with Russia growing out of treatment of the Jews ,and that Russia and Germany, who "have no quarrel upon governmental principles among themselves", would adjust their differences, Senator Lewis said:

"Then both Germany and Russia will be bound together in a treaty with an object of dominating Asia from Siberia eastward, and then, as joint enemies of the United States they will be found in conjunction with Japan, who, now an ally with Russia, will present to us the attitude of one who has earned the friendships of England and Russia in turn for the aid Japan is giving these countries by driving Germany out of China. Germany with little love for Japan, but, with her grievance against us, will be as cooperative with Japan as Russia is today. Then with this situation the concentrated allies will seize the Philippines in retaliation for our refusing equality of citizenship to the Japanese. Russia ,as the ally of Japan, would seize her former possession, Alaska. To these will be found China adding her weight, resenting the grievance of exclusion of its people, cooperating with Japan. South America, with her now aroused suspicions of our objects in that zone, could afford us no protection and from her we could expect none, for reasons of her attitude of mind caused by misconception of our purposes and drawn from the events of taking the Panama Canal and other incidents. England, because of her alliance with Japan could under no circumstances render us aid, and has no feeling towards us from which we could expect any. But if England could render us aid, "* * *you will not overlook that England, if she dared participate, would arouse Russia to retaliation upon her Canadian possessions and Japan upon Hongkong in China, and China upon the possessions at Shanghai and Central China. Thus we see too many reasons or ever dreaming of aid from any European source."

To show that these prophecies were not improbable, Senator Lewis cited historical instances where nations formerly belligerents subsequently became allies. Declaring that both England and Germany had abandoned here-

BOARD IS GETTING READY TO FINANCE COTTON MOVEMENT

Planning to Make Available Resources of Federal Reserve System.

STORAGE IS IMPORTANT

Warehouse Receipts and Evidence of Insurance Bring Ready Cash.

Washington, Aug 3.—Preliminary plans designed to make available the resources of the Federal Reserve system in the annual fall movements of the cotton and other crops have been worked out by the Federal Reserve Board. In a letter addressed to regional banks, the board pointed out how the crop movement could be financed.

The board calls special attention to the marketing of the cotton crop, because it "is clearly to the common interest that the credits based upon this crop be protected as far as possible from the danger of demoralization."

It shows that no staple commodity is subject to greater variations in prices than cotton.

"Sudden and violent fluctuations", it continues, "are clearly to the advantage of neither the loaning banks, the producer, the manufacturer, nor the consumer. They offer on the contrary an inviting field for the speculator."

The board suggests that the respective banks communicate with their members and others interested and point out that cotton producers should begin arrangements at once for its proper storage and insurance as soon as ginned.

"Federal Reserve banks," says the letter, "should particularly point out to their members that they are prepared to rediscount the notes of farmers and merchants served by proper warehouse receipts for cotton and accompanied by evidence of insurance".

Member banks, the letter says, which offer these notes to Federal Reserve banks for rediscount should be ready to state the grade and market value of the cotton and the notes should be in the customary collateral form, providing the right to call for additional security in event of material decline in market value.

"The amount to be advanced would be left primarily to the judgement of the member banks" ,says the letter.

The board suggests that the reserve banks call attention of their member banks to the desirability of reserving storage space for such cotton as is to be used as security for loans in localities where warehouse facilities are inadequate. The letter says that there is possibly ample facility for the proper storage of all cotton likely to be pleged for loans.

"It should be made plain," the board warns, "that compliance with the essential features of the plan herein outlined, modified as circumstances may demand, will be necessary for the normal marketing of this year's crop and for the proper protection of those who are interested in its movement whether banks, producers or manufacturers .

"While there seems to be no reason to believe that the world's present and

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HAVE SUPPER AND BALL

Hear Address by Archbishop Bonzano at Seattle

Nearly 5,000 Registered at Knights of Columbus Hall Last Night—Archbishop Appeals for Loyalty to Church.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 3.—A public reception to Archbishop John Bonzano, papal delegate to the United States, marked the Knights of Columbus annual dinner tonight. Later a formal ball in honor of the supreme officers and delegates took place.

Nearly 5,000 visitors have registered at Knights of Columbus Hall.

The apostolic delegate addressed the delegates at the first business sesion on loyalty and cosmopolitanism, urging the members of the order to emulate the knights of old in standing for the right under all circumstances.

"No worldly interest," said Archbishop Bonzano, "must prevent a Knight of Columbus from openly proclaiming himself a Catholic proud of the glory of being a member of that great church.

"History shows that all your aspirations, even your patriotism may be suspected because of your relations with that great church. But be not afraid to stand up and say that your religion is its owen defense, that in the principle of your Catholic religion lies the very strength and vigor of your loyalty and devotion to your country; that a Catholic's fidelity to his religion is the measure of his citizenship; that the American constitution is sa-

CONFERENCE THURSDAY IN WASHINGTON CITY ON PEACE FOR MEXICO

THAT RUSSIA MAY YET SAVE WARSAW

And That German Supply of Ammunition is Diminishing,

IS THE BELIEF OF SOME

Based Upon Slowness With Which Invaders Have Moved in Last Few Days—May be Strategy However.

London, Aug. 3. — The stubborn resistance the Russians are offering to the Austro-Germans and the slowness with which the invaders have been able to move during the last few days, has led to the belief in some quarters that the German supply of ammunition is diminishing and that Russia may yet save Warsaw.

Previous German tactics, however, have been to follow a temporary slowing down with greater efforts, and when Field Marshal Von Mackensen has concluded his operations in the Southeast, Field Marshal Van Hindenburg is expected to renew his heavy blows on the Narew front.

For the moment, therefore, the greatest interest attaches to the Southeast, where, according to Berlin, the Germans have extended their brigade positions south of Warsaw; the Austrians have gained a decisive success to the west of Ivangorod, and Von Mackensen has broken the Russian line east of Leczna and north of Chelm.

Similar successes have been gained by the Germans in Courland and in the direction of Lomza. Many military men believe the Courland operations are fraught with the greatest danger to the Russians as a victory for the Germans would enable them to move across the railways which feed the Russian armies. Further west, they are already near Poniewesch, which is the junction of two branch lines of the Vilna-Petrograd railway.

Considerable Fighting in West.

There has been considerable fighting in the western zone, in Artois, the Argonne and Alsace, but the claims of the French and German general staffs conflict, both claiming success for their troops. Unofficial reports from Holland say a big battle has been in progress along the British front in Flanders since Saturday, but there is no confirmation of this.

General Sir Ian Hamilton, commander of the Allied forces in the Dardanelles, reports that a successful attack by the Australians and New Zealanders on the Turkish trenches has placed them in possession of the crest of a hill near their lines. These colonial troops hold positions along the western side of the Gallipoli peninsula and thus prevent the Turks from sending all their forces against the Anglo-French army, which hold the tip of the peninsula.

THREE KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Deaths Caused by Explosion of Time Fuses at Arsenal

Philadelphia, Aug 3.—Two soldiers and a civilian were killed at the United States arsenal at Frankford, this city, today in an explosion of time fuses. Another civilian was injured. The dead are: Arthur B. Rundlett private ordance department, Boston.

Prasileo Frasco, private, ordance department, New York City.

James F. Harkins, civilian Philadelphia.

The men were working on the firing range some distance from the main arsenal buildings . They were unpacking fuses, withdrawn from service and sent to the arsenal to be broken up, when one of the boxes exploded. Bits of steel were scattered in all directions tearing and maming the men.

The cause of the accident has not yet been ascertained. Arthur E. Brown the injured civilian, officers of the arsenal said, may be able to explain the cause. He was not in condition today to be questioned .

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 3.—The grand aerie session of the Fraternal Order of Eagles began here today with all officers and 971 delegates present. The morning session was given up to organization. J. S. Parry, of Kansas City, Grand secretary, in his summary of semi-annual reports covering from December 31, 1914, to June 1, 1915, reported the net assets of the order as $9,767,498.

Representatives of South and Central American Republics With Lansing.

PEACE PLAN OUTLINED

Wilson's Determination to Seek Co-Operation Was Reached Last June.

American Troops Wounded by Mexican Raiders.

Washington, Aug. 3.—President Wilson's determination to seek the co-operation of Central and South American governments in restoring peace in Mexico was reached last June, when his appeal to the Mexican factionists to end the strife brought no results, it became known today.

The invitation to the ambassadors from Argentina, Brazil and Chile and the ministers from Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala to confer with Secretary Lansing on the problem was extended June 30, while the statement to the Mexican people was issued June 3. Announcement of the plan was withheld until each of the diplomats received the sanction of his government to participate in the conference.

The conference will be held here next Thursday.

All details of President Wilson's plan have not, it is reported, been communicated to the six southern governments, but their representatives who are to participate in the conference have been given in confidence a general outline. Prompt and determined action, it is declared, is the foundation of the President's plan.

It is believed the first step proposed will be a final appeal to Mexican leaders to end hostilities and arrange for restoration of constitutional government. A time limit for compliance, it is thought, will be suggested.

The Alternative.

Should this be ignored by any of the Mexican factions, the plan is said to include procedure to form the establishment of the other factions of a government to be supported morally and financially by the United States and other American governments. An embargo on munitions of war would be imposed, it is said, against revolting factions.

Demand will be made for immediate relief of the food situation in Mexico City, it is understood. If Mexican leaders cannot do this, the United States, aided possibly by the Latin American governments, may take physical control of the capital and the railroad and hold it until peace is restored.

Replying to questions today, Secretary Lansing said the sending of troops into Mexico City to take food to starving Americans and other foreigners could not be considered an act of war. Mr. Lansing would not say, however, that such a plan was contemplated.

Reports from Vera Cruz tonight announced the formal entrance of General Gonzales into Mexico City.

Border Raids by Bandits.

During the day reports of border raids by Mexican bandits came from General Funston. Several American soldiers have been wounded in the pursuit of the raiders. One party of filibusterers was captured by the troopers with a supply of guns and ammunition. They were turned over to legal officials for prosecution.

Assistant Secretary Breckenridge, of the War Department, and General Scott, chief of staff, conferred on receipts of the dispatches. Later General Funston was authorized to employ his forces as he deemed best to guard property on the American side of the border.

One message transmitted by General Funston said Governor Ferguson, of Texas, had been urged to call for more Federal troops or to send state militia to protect Brownsville and vicinity from raiders.

General Funston said the force now at Brownsville was sufficient to handle the situation.

U. S. CAVALRYMAN KILLED.

In Effort to Capture Mexican Bandits, Who Escape.

Brownsville, Texas, Aug. 3.—Mexican bandits, believed to be surrounded by United States cavalrymen and Texas deputy sheriffs in the brush north of this city, escaped, according to information received here tonight.

The Mexican's camp was rushed and six saddle horses were captured. Their riders, however, were gone.

In a fight earlier in the day between the bandits and cavalrymen, Private McGuire, of the 12th cavalry, was killed, and Private Curtis was wounded. A deputy sheriff also was hit by a stray bullet. First reports said that a dozen Mexicans were killed, but tonight it was thought that only two of them were hit. Two others were captured. The latter refused information about the band, but the camp rushed late today bore evidence that possibly less than a dozen men had been in it.

The deputies and troopers continued tonight their search for the men who escaped and who apparently took to the brush afoot. All ranches and farms in the vicinity have armed their households against further raids.

Lieut. H. B. Johnson, adjutant at Fort Brown, Texas, returned tonight from the scene of today's fighting. He confirmed the reports as to the day's fighting and escape of the bandits.

FEDERALS PLANNING ANOTHER RAIL ON ORGANIZED BASEBALL

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 3. — James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal League, announced here today that his league was planning another raid on organized baseball and that negotiations with fifteen stars of the National and American leagues were under way. He said the Federals would endeavor to sign several well known players in the fall, and that others would be found in the Federal league training camps next spring. Gilmore said that no amount of money within reason would stand in the way of the Federals, if they could induce such men as Grover Cleveland Alexander, J. Franklin Baker, Eddie Collins and "Stuffy" McInnis to sign contracts.

Pittsburg, Aug. 3.—Sanford Burk, pitcher for the Pittsburg Federal League baseball club, today was temporarily restrained from playing with the club, and the club was restrained from employing Burk through injunctions granted to representatives of the American Association baseball club of Indianapolis by Judge Reed in common pleas court. Judge Reed named August 6th as the time when he would hear arguments on the motion to make the injunctions permanent. Burk joined the Pittsburg Federals recently.

Racine, Wis., Aug. 3.—Packy McFarland, of Chicago, and Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, signed articles late today for a ten-round fight September 11 at New York. The weights will be 147 pounds. The promoters offered a purse of $32,500, of which McFarland will receive $17,500 and Gibbons $15,000.

BILBO SEEMS TO BE LEADING.

Second Democratic Primary in Mississippi is Probable.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 3. — Scattered returns from today's Democratic primary election, received from all parts of Mississippi tonight, indicated that Theodore G. Bilbo, lieutenant governor was leading the four other aspirants for the nomination for Governor. Marion W. Reily, of Natches, apparently was running close to Bilbo, and the belief was generally expressed that a second primary would be necessary to decide the nominee for governor.

THE NORTH CAROLINA
State Normal and Industrial College

FALL TERM BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915

GREENSBORO, N. C.
The State's College For Women

FALL TERM BEGINS SEPTEMBER 15, 1915

An institution devoted to the spread of sound learning, liberal culture and useful citizenship.

The North Carolina State Normal and Industrial College was established by Act of the General Assembly of 1891, and first opened its doors for the reception of students October 5, 1892.

PURPOSE.

The college is founded upon the idea that women are the natural and inevitable instructors of youths. It believes in a sound and liberally educated womanhood, both as an end desirable in itself and as essential to the intelligence and progress of the race. It would have every woman in North Carolina educated to the full measure of her responsibilities as citizen, wife, mother and teacher. It seeks, therefore, through proper equipment and through various and liberally planned courses of study to make ample provision for the educational needs of the women of North Carolina—to provide an institution of higher learning so thoroughly furnished with every facility for modern education as to render it good enough for any of its women and so closely affiliated with the public schools and so reasonable in its cost of tuition as to bring its opportunities within the reach of all.

LOCATION.

Greensboro, the railroad center of North Carolina, is one of the prosperous, thriving cities of the country, combining the charms and energy of the new. Situated in the delightful Piedmont section of North Carolina, its healthfulness is well known and its social and religious influences are the best. Its accessibility, its excellent hotel facilities, its diversified industries and the hospitable and progressive spirit of its people render it the favorite convention city of the State.

EQUIPMENT.

The college owns about one hundred acres of land. Ten acres, fronting on a paved and macadamized thoroughfare, are laid out and cared for in accordance with plans of landscape gardeners. A woodland park of twenty-five acres, covered with a natural forest growth of rare beauty, is the private property of the college and is reserved to its students as an open air recreation ground. The college buildings, thirteen in number, have been specially designed for their several purposes and represent the best in material and equipment. The value of the plant is $700,000, and the annual State appropriation is $95,000.

FACULTY.

The faculty, numbering sixty-seven earnest and vigorous workers, is representative of the scholarship and culture of the best colleges and universities of this country. They are chosen with a view to securing able and progressive Christian men and women, free from sectionalism, intolerance and bigotry, and thoroughly qualified by character, training and scholarship for the ladies of their profession.

COURSES OF STUDY.

The courses of study have been arranged to meet the needs of the young women of North Carolina. Students who register as candidates for a degree may take any one of five general courses of study leading, respectively, to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Pedagogy, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Music and Bachelor of Science in Home Economics. Each of these courses, though arranged with a view to proficiency in some one subject, is liberally construed and offers in addition to the traditional college studies, electives in Pegagogy, Modern Languages, Manual Training, Vocal and Instrumental Music and Household Arts. For students who are not candidates for a degree, special courses are provided in the Commercial Department and in the Departments of Music, Manual Training and Domestic Science.

SUMMER SESSIONS.

The college is in session during the summer months. Regular collegiate work is offered and credit is given for all degree subjects properly completed. Special courses also are designed particularly for teachers and graduates of other colleges who may wish to supplement their previous studies by additional work in Pedagogy, School Management, Manual Training, Music and Home Economics.

THE DORMITORIES.

The dormitories have been fitted up by the State. They have been constructed in accordance with modern conceptions of safety and convenience; are supplied with all necessary furniture, and are heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Only single beds are used. Bath and toilet rooms are conveniently located on every floor and in every section, and sterilized drinking water is provided in every hallway. Those who board in the dormitories are under the direct care of the president, the lady principal and her assistants.

EXPENSES.

The college is maintained by the State as pat of its system of public education. A collegiate education to every white woman in North Carolina is its ideal. Tuition is free to all who agree to teach in the public or private schools of the State for at least two years after leaving the college. The total charges for board, laundry, use of text-books, medical attention, heat and lights, is $150.00 per year. This is the total cost to free tuition students, except a charge of $6.00 for gymnasium suit and shoes and $2.00 as a lecture and recital fee. To those who prefer to pay tuition the annual charge is $45.00. Tuition-paying and fee-tuition students enjoy similar privileges and opportunities and receive the same service. By the charter of the institution, board must be furnished in its dormitories at actual cost. There is no long list of extra charges and expenses—the regular tuition fee or agreement to teach entitling the students to the full collegiate courses.

In the boarding department the daily menus are made out, and the dining room supervised, by a trained dietitian. A matron in charge is responsible for the purchase, storage and proper preparation of food materials. The sewerage and water systems, the bath rooms and lavatories, the heating, lighting and ventilating machinery and the laundry and cold storage plants are carefully inspected. All drinking water is thoroughly sterilized and every precaution is exercised in regard to the milk and butter supply. The college maintains its own dairy, subject to the official inspection of State officers. Proper ventilation of dormitory and recitations rooms is insisted upon; and due care is taken to prevent the origin and spread of infectious diseases.

An experienced woman physician has charge of all matters pertaining to health, and her lectures on sanitary science and personal hygiene form part of the required course of study. Trained nurses are also regularly employed. Physicians and nurses may be consulted day and night. The cost of medical consultation and attendance is included in the annual expenses.

In this way, medical advice is insured at the least cost, and the danger is obviated of any student postponing, for economical reasons, the needful consultation.

A committee, appointed by the State Board of Health, visits and inspects the institution.

SUPPORT.

The college has always had the loyal support of the people of North Carolina. Liberally maintained in the interests of the common welfare, it seeks to carry out the purposes for which it was established and invites the continued co-operation of every man and woman in North Carolina in assisting it to perform a wide and useful service. Sympathy and good will have been freely accorded it from the beginning, and material support has aided it in every hour of need. Buildings have been erected, grounds improved, departments equipped, loan funds and fellowships established, libraries enlarged, and assembly halls adorned by the liberality of private donors. Each succeeding Legislature has dealt more and more generously with it and today its annual State appropriation is equivalent to an endowment fund of at least $2,000,000.

PATRONAGE.

The State Normal and Industrial College is not for the poor alone, though it seeks to extend to every worthy girl an opportunity to secure an education. It is not for the rich alone, though it endeavors to provide the best equipment and service obtainable. It knows neither geographical, political nor religious distinctions, but believing in the religion of Jesus and the principles of democracy, is an earnest advocate of universal education. The success of the college is due in large measure to the representative character and spirit of it students. They come from all the counties of the State and are thorpughly perresentative of the people of North Carolina. Many of them are daughters of wealthy parents and many pay their entire expenses by some form of manual labor. Nearly one-third of the students of the past year were self-supporting.

SPIRIT AND SERVICE.

The atmosphere surrounding the students is one of equality of opportunity. The coming together in this atmosphere of all classes from all sections of the State, fosters patriotism and breadth of vision. The living together and working together of representatives of every profession and industry gives the students a clearer comprehension of the life and ideals of their State, acquaints them with its resources and achievements, and inspires them with a laudable ambition to be of some service. The large measure of self-government accorded develops self-reliance and a sense of individual responsibility. The spirit of the college is, therefore, worthy of the State of North Carolina. With a seriousness of purpose nowhere surpassed, and an earnest yet kindly striving for the higher standards of life and thought, here annually gather, on equal terms, more than six hundred North Carolina women. Of the total number enrolled more than sixty per cent., according to their own written statement, would not have attended any other North Carolina college. Two-thirds of its registered students and nine-tenths of its graduates teach in the schools and colleges of the State. No large movement for the uplift of humanity fails to receive their support. In home, school, church and society their influence for good is being constantly felt, and today there is not a county in North Carolina where students of the State Normal and Industrial College are not actively engaged in public service.

Thus the State provides for her daughters, and thus the daughters labor intelligently and effectively in the interest of "religion, morality and knowledge."

EXPERTS TO EXAMINE TRULL AS TO SANITY

Special Commission is Announced by Gov. Craig.

Charlotte Man Sentenced to Death Is Said to Be Insane—Stockholders of A. & N. C. Railroad Meet Today—Raleigh News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 3.—Announcement was made at the office of Governor Craig today of the appointment of a special commission of experts to pass on the sanity of Charles E. Trull, of Charlotte, under sentence to be electrocuted September 3 for the murder and robbery of an aged merchant of Charlotte by the name of Swain. The commission consists of Dr. John McCampbell, of Morganton; Dr. Albert Anderson, of Raleigh, and Dr. W. W. Faison, of Goldsboro, these being the superintendents in charge of the three State hospitals for the insane.

The announcement is also to the effect that this commission will meet in Raleigh on August 9 for the purpose of making the examination as to the mental status of the prisoner. Messrs. Cameron Morrison and Jake Newell, of Charlotte, are counsel for Trull and are making the fight to save their client from the electric chair.

Governor Craig announces the appointment of J. R. Bell, of Parkville, as State's proxy for the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad Company, to be held at Morehead City August 4.

Governor Craig has received the resignation of Morehead R. Lynch, of High Point, as president of the State Board of Accountancy for the examination and licensing of expert accountants in this State. There is not yet any appointment of a successor.

State Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young directs special attention to the fact that in a book just issued by Chief John Kinlon, of the New York Fire Department, and head of the National Firemen's Training School, there is special mention of the remarkable record made by the teachers and pupils of the Murphy School, Raleigh, on the occasion of the fire last February when several hundred children were marched out of the building in perfect order within three quarters of a minute. It is a big two-story structure. There is also severe criticism of the fact that the furnace from which the fire started in the basement of the building was under the main stairway. The chief remarks in his comments that it is inconceivable how intelligent members of a school board could have permitted such a location for a furnace.

Flame Shoots Up Out of Cape Fear

STRANGE PHENOMENON PUZZLES INHABITANTS OF SOUTHPORT AND FORT CASWELL. BRUNSWICK NOTES.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., Aug. 3.—A singular phenomenon which was observed early Sunday morning, in the channel between this city and Battery Island, which lies directly opposite, continues to be the talk along the river front, and goes unexplained up to the present time.

This freak or whatever it may be termed, and too many saw it to class it as an optical illusion, took place at 5 A. M. The Baltimore steamer had passed out, when a group of pilots noted what appeared to be a flame of gas shooting up from the water. That it was not a floating substance was determined by one of the pilots sighting a stationary object, the flame darting up and down at one place. Four of the pilots jumped into one of their motor boats and started out, deciding that it must be some motor boat on fire. But before they had gone far the flame seemed to exhaust itself, and went out.

This same flame was seen by the guard on duty at Fort Caswell who made in his report as having noted what he said appeared a motor boat on fire at Southport.

This morning, during a heavy downpour of rain, Sheriff Robinson and Chief of Police Lewis, in the former's auto, made a quick run out of town and within a short distance of the city limits found part of what they went after, a whiskey still, but its owners were not found at the place of industry.

The still, the usual illicit make, of about half a gallon capacity, was brought into town and awaits a claimant at the court house. Some 75 gallons of mash were captured at the same time. This was thrown out on the ground.

This is the first case of "blockade" ever known in this, Smithville, township.

The menhaden fishing industry got a good start last week, there being fine catches of pogies by the up-river company, also by the Southport Fish Oil & Scrap Company. Yesterday and today have been stormy with southwest gale of over 24 hours duration, preventing all outside fishing. The fish caught are reported fat and of fine commercial value.

The August term of Brunswick county Superior Court convenes here on the 23rd, for a one week term. Only civil cases will be heard and none of special interest among those on the docket. Judge F. A. Daniels will preside.

Don't Miss It.

BUNCH OF BEAUTIES OFF TO SUNSET LAND

Charlotte Gives Royal Reception to "Movie" Party

Mayor Welcomes to Banquet and Impromptu Speeches Are Made by Others—Wilmington Girls Distinguish Themselves.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 3.—Charlotte's contribution to the entertainment of the 22 girls comprising the party of popularity contest winners from North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia culminated in a blaze of glory at 10:30 tonight when the special all-steel Pullman pulled out from the Southern passenger station for a run across the continent to the West coast, bearing the happiest bunch of the South's fair femininity which will honor the "Land of the Sunset" with a visit in many a day.

Charlotte's reception to the party was indeed a royal one, occupying the entire day, and consisting of many impromptu events, as well as the set programme of suburban rides, baseball, the "shooting" of the beauties by the "movie man", and culminating in an elegant banquet at the Central Hotel, followed by a dance in the hotel parlors. Mayor Kirkpatrick made the address of welcome at the banquet and was followed by impromptu speeches by Messrs. R. D. Craver, the originator and manager of the entire contest; P. W. Wells, of the Bijou theatre, Wilmington, and Mr. George B. Crater, who, with his charming wife, will chaperone the party on the tour.

Wilmington's girls further distinguished themselves at the ball this evening when Miss Walker and Mr. Richard Myers entertained with exhibition dances which were the hit of the evening with a vast throng of Charlotte people who attended the ball. Miss Annie Banks rendered a beautiful vocal solo with Mrs. P. W. Wells playing the piano accompaniment.

Wilmington's representatives, Misses Beulah Walker and Annie Banks, winners of the Bijou contest, were early in the day acknowledged the leaders of the party by virtue of having excelled the field in work accomplished during the tri-state contest. They were showered with congratulations on every hand, and a procession of messenger boys kept pouring into the hotel throughout the day with flowers and candy for Wilmington's tri-State champions. Among the Wilmingtonians here to see the party off are Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Wells, Mrs. James Howard and Messrs. D. M. Bain, Dan Lockfaw and Richard Myers.

STARVING IN LAND OF PLENTY.

Family of Five Without Food, Shelter or Work at Rocky Mount.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 3.—There was brought to a climax last night at the passenger station an appalling case of a family of apparent culture being without food, transportation, or shelter, and the head of the household being without work and at point where he could get no work. The case came under police surveillance last night when the head of the family, a Mr. Fortjo by name, and a painter and artist by trade, left his wife and four children in the passenger station here telling them that he was ready to quit the search, and that the strain was all too much for him, and that suicide was to be his next step.

The Charities Association was called to care for the mother and her four small children who were suffering under a strain that verged on a collapse following their pitiful plight of the past several days, during the time that the father had continued to search for work. The parent was sought by the police, and according to those who have talked with the man, his failure to secure work has in a measure unbalanced his mental condition and he was extremely nervous. The Charities arranged for the placing of the family in a local boarding house while the father was cared for at the Y. M. C. A. Efforts are being made to secure work for the man today.

JONES TAKES FORWARD STEP

County Commissioners Provide For Farm Demonstration Agent

(Special Star Correspondence)

Newbern, N. C., Aug 3.—For several months Prof. J. W. Sears, county farm demonstrator for Craven county, has been endeavoring to show the officials of Jones county the advantages of having a demonstrator within the borders of their county and he has at last succeeded. Yesterday Prof. Sears went before the Board and made a splendid argument in favor of securing the services of a demonstrator. The Commissioners considered the matter and finally agreed to appropriate the sum of four hundred and eighty dollars for this work. The demonstrator will be secured and will begin his work some time in October. At first Craven county did not think much of the work of farm demonstrators but was induced to secure the services of such and now the farmers could hardly get along without one.

TOP O' THE MORNING

The tenderness that apologizes for wickedness is the worst form of cruelty. —CHANNING.

It is awful to be looking on while such history is being made in Europe.

A man looks like the picture of despair when he remains long in an ugly frame of mind.

The Bull Moose party is trying to find out whether it is drifting without some sort of understanding about the offices.

Tyrant Cobb is probably about what Ty looks like to those batters over whose head he seems to be scoring a new record.

Another thing that it is well to remember is that "invisible government" has not been able to divide authority with a Democratic administration at Washington.

A Wilmington lady says she has issued an ultimatum to her husband and his allies who are always going fishing without showing any fish as proof of their luck.

During last year 88,000,000 gallons of whiskey was manufactured in the United States. No account, however, is taken of such dry territory products as "monkey rum," "topsy turvy" and "jim-jam juice."

A Brooklyn widow is advertising for "a perfect husband." Nothing doing in North Carolina. The wives of North Carolina editors assert and maintain jurisdiction in a realm from which no perfect husband can possibly escape.

Says the Jacksonville Times-Union: "A Fort Worth man says he wouldn't be surprised to see cotton bring 25 cents a pound by the 1st of September." Betcha that in the meantime he would sell for 10 cents, tackle futures and lose his 10.

The New York World notes the fact that, altogether the woman's section of the Navy League is only two weeks old, more than 7,000 American women have become members. Of course, women are pacificists, but they realize, as all patriots do, that peace can be more honorably maintained by being prepared to challenge respect.

North Carolina's drainage law enables land owners to incorporate and get credit on bond securities to reclaim their swamp lands. It is adding to the State's cultivable area thousands of acres of the richest lands on earth. A systematic drainage project improves the health conditions of a community also, and adds to the aggregate wealth of the State.

Germany and Great Britain know that we are chewing the rag and will keep on chewing it till both of them agree with us when they get in a reasonable frame of mind after this war. We are not disposed to chew off anybody's ear while the national interests of our European friends make it impossible for them to see anything except in the light of desperation.

Millions for defense but not a cent for Utopian pretence. Likewise, millions for preparedness for national defense but not one penny for preparedness for war. But for preparation for war we would not have beheld the spectre of the past year in Europe. In less than a week both sides have virtually charged the other with responsibility for the war on the ground of years of preparation for it.

We have an inalienable right to the sea and so have all nations. It is usurpation for any nation to set up its arbitrary authority over all the waters of the earth or to barbarously destroy the lives of neutrals and non-combatants in contending over what is the right of all nations—"freedom of the sea," as laid down broadly and humanely by Woodrow Wilson, the world's sanest and wisest statesman of the times.

THE HAITIEN IMITATOR

The Haitiens call their revolutionary chief "Roosevelt" Bobo ,because of his strenuosity and for the reason that he is always ready to start something whether it needs starting or not. He is as black as the hinges of Sherman's synonym for war, and is a doctor, having graduated from a Paris school of medicine. As a manifestant he has bumble-bee characteristics and makes trouble when he hasn't all the fame and filthy lucre that he thinks is coming to him. He is all lit up with egotism and gnawed at by ambition but the Sensagambian Mutts probably do the American Colonel an injustice when they proudly boast that the ebony-hued agitator is characteristically and distinctly Rooseveltian.

The Haitien is biting off something and chewing it all the time, but one of his intimates acknowledges that Roosevelt Bobo is a grafter, in that respect totally different from the American strenuoso . The bad part of it is that when stupidity thinks it's fine to cut a wide swath along Napoleonic lines and starts some kind of new-fangled nationalism, it is something like a farm hand quitting his job to become the leader of a variegated variety of something or other not fitting snugly to his calibre.

Napoleon, with military genius and heroic cast of mentality, set a horrid example for small imitaters with a preponderance of apishness and pomposity. How much grander it would be to imitate the masterful leadership of Moses or to emulate Joshua unostentatiously executing the movements planned with meekness, sanity and wisdom!

Alas! When the picturesqueness and grandeur of the mighty Napoleon obsesses the numbskull class, it is all over with the tranquility of organized society, probably adhering as best it can to mossback and oligarchic traditions. Looky what it's doing for Haiti!

No one can dim the lustre of Napoleon Bonaparte—"the man of iron" "the man of blood"—but if we should ever have a chance to weep at the grave of any man whose fame rests on his record for billowing the earth with untimely graves, we will weep because he threw away his chance to be the world's Good Samaritan—the exemplar of that highest of all human ideals—"Peace on earth, good will towards men".

DAY OF WOE FOR AMERICA

The unexpected is liable to happen, and probably that is what Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, suspects is liable to happen. Whether he expects it or not, he has prophesied a woeful thing that he suspects is going to happen to Uncle Sam some of these days.

In a speech at Asheville before the North Carolina Bar Association last night ,the Hon. Jim Ham predicted that about all the world is bound to jump on the United States some time in the more or less remote future. He sees Russia, Germany, Japan and China combined to run Uncle Sam out of the Philippines and lay him out, while England will not come to the rescue but let him take his medicine. He thinks our only hope is to form an alliance of all the Republics in North and South America in order to keep us from being overwhelmed by a great European and Asiatic combination.

Senator Lewis foresees the seizure of the Panama Canal, the invasion of the United States and the destruction of its great hustling, bustling cities. The four nations will pour out their wrath upon us, and punish us for making them mad by having controversies with them about first one thing and then another.

Elsewhere The Star publishes an abstract of Senator Lewis' Asheville speech, in connection with the proceedings of the Bar Association. He certainly hit it up lively, but it is to be hoped that the brilliant Illinoisian is more of a romantic entertainer than he is a prophet of ill omen. His views correspond in some respects with some of the ideas of interpreters of Biblical prophecy who have held that the great "Battle of Armageddon" is to take place in America and that in the day of American triumph "blood will run to the bits of the horses".

HOME MARKET FOR FEED STUFFS.

North Carolina is in the market for farm feedstuffs to the value of $3,151,000. Heretofore the North and the West have supplied that demand, but owing to the fact that the State Publicity Bureau was recently organized to point out opportunities in the State, it ought to point out the opportunity of the farmers to capture the North Carolina trade for feedstuffs consumed on the farme every year. Some farmers produce all their own feedstuffs, but 76,800 North Carolina farmers buy feed to be used in feeding their horses, mules, cows and hogs.

These 76,800 farmers who buy feed are good customers and no doubt would prefer the home article and would like to keep their money at home by buying North Carolina products. North Carolina products are the best and so would North Carolina money kept at home be better than North Carolina money sent to the North and West.

The farmers of North Carolina would not have a bit of trouble in finding at home a market for $3,151,000 worth of feedstuffs. They would be their own customers by producing their own feedstuffs and thus make a profit out of themselves. Anyhow, the farmers themselves offer a market for home producers and it would be a good idea for farmers in other states to move to North Carolina where they can get a good market for grain and forages and all kinds of feedstuffs.

North Carolina offers a fine opportunity to farmers from abroad to come here so they may be able to get a home market. According to a recent article in the University News Letter, taken from the United States Census of 1910, no hay and forage is grown on 184,000 farms in the state. On 25,000 farms no corn is grown, while neither oats nor wheat was grown on 200,000 farms. That is bad enough, but no doubt the situation is worse in other Southern states. In view of that fact, the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot does not see any use of wasting sympathy as cotton growers who grow cotton at cost when they could grow feedstuffs and save $3,151,000 on that one item. The Norfolk paper says very pointedly:

"There is no occasion for any politician or any newspaper editor in the South to tear passion to tatters over the cotton situation, so long as the growers of the staple continue to pay so little deference either in the matter of reducing the acreage seeded or in that of increasing production of feedstuffs, to the conditions brought about by the war in Europe. It is true that figures recently made public by the Census Bureau, at Washington, show a falling off in the aggregate area planted in cotton this year of approximately 13 per cent and that a corresponding advance is indicated in the prospective acreage of foodstuffs for man and of forage for work animals."

The fact is that if three out of ten farmers in the state were to produce only $41 worth of feedstuffs, it would keep $3,151,000 in North Carolina each year that is now being sent away to other states.

SAW AN OPPORTUNITY HERE FOR SOUTH AMERICA.

A few months ago a number of the financiers and business men of South America visited this country to attend the Pan-American Conference at Washington. While here, some of them spied out some of the opportunities in this country for South American trade. Some of the Brazilians remembered that Brazil wantet a market for her beef, and, as a result of their negotiations, Brazil wanted a market for her beef, and, North America arrived in New York last Saturday on the steamship Rio de Janeiro.

The shipment embraced 100 tons of beef, and, according to the New York Journal of Commerce, a representative of the firm which received the Brazilian consignment, declared that other cargoes are to follow. It was also said that efforts are being made to find in the United States a market for Brazil's beef, which, previous to the war was principally shipped to England. Argentine beef has been coming to New York for some time, and the traffic is now immense.

Besides being a great producer of meats, the United States also is practically an unlimited market for meats. New York demands the best and it is the greatest and choicest market in America. Is the South going to let far-away South America supply a demand that the South should supply at good profit?

If there is a beef opportunity in New York for Brazil, certainly there also is an opportunity in our greatest market for North Carolina live-stock products. Meat is something that the millions of consumers in the North are compelled to have, and if we really are looking into opportunities for North Carolina, here is one for which we will not have to look very far.

Herr Oswald Flamm, privy counsellor and professor of naval architecture, states in the Berlin Vossiche Zeitung that Captain Turner and the British admiralty accelerated the sinking of the Lusitania "by some bribed person on board." The Hon. Flamm must be a member of the ancient Flimflam family.

BOY SCOUTS AND TYPHOID

Raleigh Scouts Must Immunize or Not Go Camping.

(State Board of Health.)

"Hereafter all Raleigh Boy Scouts must be immunized against typhoid before they can go camping." At least that is the decree of this hustling assistant scout master, Mr. L. P. Denmark. In commenting on this matter a few days ago, Mr. Denmark said he had just returned with the boys from a ten days' delightful camping trip and that every boy in the party had gained from 1 to 4 pounds.

He explained about the care that had been exercised in choosing the camp sight over a week before the party started, the care and instructions given the boys about their drinking water, the care exercised with reference to their milk supply, all in the face of the fact that he was under the impression that every boy had been immunized against typhoid. While in camp a brother of one of the boys developed typhoid at home, and upon inquiry it was found that this boy and his family were the representatives that had not been immunized against typhoid.

The responsibility of a lot of boys in the judgment of this assistant scout master is sufficient to warrant his refusing to take them camping hereafter unless they have availed themselves of this almost sure preventive of typhoid, and we believe he is right.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A wealthy woman of Wilmington, Del., gave a stable party in honor of her pet carriage horse on the occasion of its fourteenth birthday. Why is this talent for entertainment concealed in Delaware when its proper field is Newport?—New York World.

Any of our contemporaries desiring to comment upon conditions as to sanitation in Greensboro will, of course, feel perfectly free to do so;but it might be just as well for some of them to take a look around their own municipal premises first.—Greensboro News.

If war is becoming less humane, mining as an industry is becoming more and more humanitarian in its methods. The late Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, of the Bureau of Mines, Washington, rounded out a life devoted in later years to the development of safer and more rational conditions under which the mine labor of the country does its work. The policy of this bureau, which Doctor Holmes headed from its organization several years ago, has been to co-operate with the State Departments of Mines wherever the industry had acquired prominence. The result was that rapid progress was made not only in safety of underground work, but also in the living condition of the households represented by the miners themselves. In the Connellsville coke regions of Pennsylvania the Department of Mines of that state reports similar gains in the social condition of the workers. Frank Hall, deputy chief of Pennsylvania's Department of Mines, says a single company with 18,000 employes and their families, at 85 operating mines, has adopted every safety device possible for the prevention of accidents, affords relief in case of temporary or permanent disability and compensates its faithful employes who become incapacitated. Every mine has its fire fighting organization and first-aid stations, and the company has 200 first-aid teams available for the benefit of injured employes. These employes pay no contribution and receive relief payments without legal proceedings. In a few years over half a million dollars has been spent in bettering the condition of the workmen in sanitary and other similar matters. More than 7,000 shade trees have been planted and the resident miners vie with each other in competition for the best gardens and lawns about their houses. The sight of children playing on the 25 playgrounds is a thing that may well cause the old heart to feel young again.—Wall Street Journal.

WILSON NEWS NOTES.

Negro Probably Fatally Shot—Funeral of S. A. Woodard.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, Aug. 3.—In a raid on a crowd of negro gamblers Sunday afternoon, William Moss, a negro, was seriously shot. He was taken to the colored hospital, where it is said, that he has an even chance to recover. Who shot him is a mystery, and he has not been able to make a statement as yet. One of the negroes was in the house when the raid was made by the police officers, says that Moss was shot by a policeman. The officers, Messrs. Petway and Herndon, both deny shooting him.

A negro, George Simms, wanted here for burglary has been apprehended in Rocky Mount and will be brought back to Wilson at once. Simms is charged with entering the house of another negro named Langely some time ago.

Mr. R. H. Drake received a message that his brother, Mr. J. R. Drake, of Darlington, S. C., was dead, and he left this morning to attend the funeral, which was held this afternoon.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral services of the late S. A. Woodard yesterday afternoon were Judge Will R. Allen and W. T. Dortch, of Goldsboro, and Dr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, of Raleigh.

CRAVEN TO FIGHT TYPHOID.

County Commissioners Make Appropriation for Campaign.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 3. — There is but very little typhoid fever in Craven county at the present time, and, in fact, there have been but few cases in the past few years, but the county and city officials are anxious to prevent this disease from ever gaining a hold here. Yesterday the Board of Commissioners appropriated four hundred dollars to be used in waging a campaign against the disease, and some time during the month of September experts will begin administering the anti-typhoid serum to the citizens of the county free of charge. Considerable interest has already been manifested in this campaign and the action of the commissioners has been eagerly awaited.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon, but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. RESCH, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter wil be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

CHARLOTTE PEOPLE WANT BETTER RATES

For Round Trip Tickets to Wrightsville Beach.

Shippers Investigating With View to Remedying Situation—Comparison of Rates to Queen City and to Atlanta

That Charlotte is determined to be put on an equal basis with Atlanta and other Georgia points in the way of passenger rates to Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach is indicated by an article which appeared in The Charlotte Observer this week. Charlotte people have been coming to the beach in large numbers this summer and this has no doubt been largely due to the attractive rates made by the Seaboard which, however, are still higher than those given to Atlanta.

"The discrimination in freight rates are so numerous and so glaring that passenger rate inequalities attract little comment in and about Charlotte," says the Observer. "The citation of the showing wherein Atlanta and other Georgia points are given such attractive rates to Wrightsville Beach whereas North Carolina points, almost with a stone's throw of this well known resort, have to pay approximately the regular rate is now coming in for much discussion. Thus for instance, as has been mentioned previously, Atlanta gets a rate to Wrightsville of $10 for a 10-day round trip whereas Charlotte, which is a good less than half as far away, has to pay $7.50 for the same ticket and even this has been obtained only recently. The mileage on the Atlanta ticket is 880 while that from Charlotte is only 404 for the round trip. Just why the Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard make such attractive rates to this point whereas others cities are required to pay proportionately more is not explained. There is a quiet movement among the shippers of this territory to see if something cannot be done to remedy this situation. The refusal to give freight to the road making such discriminations would be a most powerful weapon. The mater will probably be presented to the Chamber of Commerce and the Charlotte Merchants' Association for some sort of protest."

The discrepancy as to passenger rates from the two points is hardly as great as indicated by The Observer although the contention that a better rate for a 10-day ticket is a valid one. The rate for a tourist ticket from Charlotte, good from date of purchase until October 31st, is $8.70 while the rate from Atlanta for a similar ticket is $18.55. A round trip week-end ticket is sold for $5 from Charlotte on Saturdays, good for return until the following Tuesday.

While the Charlote people are kicking because a $5 rate is not made for a ten-day ticket the Atlanta people are kicking because the $10 ticket is not made good for two weeks instead of ten days as many of the visitors to the resort find that they want to stay longer than ten days. All of which goes to show that it is not easy to satisfy people, no matter what the rate may be. However, it would appear that Charlotte people should have a $5 round trip ticket, good for ten days if Atlanta people have the privilege of buying a similar ticket for $10.

Wrightsville Beach has always been especially popular with Georgia people and every week there are between 75 and a hundred people who take advantage of the $10 rate for a round trip ticket. Special Pullmans are attached to regular trains on Thursdays, these arriving in Wilmington on Friday afternoon. The travel from Charlotte is usually more widely distributed, making it hardly advisable to have extra Pullmans.

WILMINGTON 100 YEARS AGO.

Assistant Clerk and Treasurer Blair Discovers Book Kept Then.

The book in which the accounts of the town of Wilmington were kept from 1806 to 1835, which was picked up a few days ago by Mr. Walter Blair, assistant to Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, contains much interesting data, as it gives an idea what the city was doing 100 years ago.

The revenue of Wilmington at that time was $1,500, and it is interesting to note that revenue was collected for both dog badges and hog badges. One year during that 29 years, showed sales of 56 hog badges and 40 dog badges. The clerk's salary was $100 a year.

The streets were kept up at an expense of $70 a year and the town bell ringer was paid $40 annually. Wilmington kept a town bell for a number of years. Another item of interest is that $300 was paid for a negro to be owned by the town.

Remains of Mr. H. P. Milliken Taken to Old Home at Branchville

Mrs. H. P. Milliken and brother, Mr. Ralph Formy Duvall and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Smith have returned from Branchville, Va., where they went on the sad mission of accompanying the remains of Mr. Milliken, whose death occured a few days ago. Though not unexpected it came as a severe shock to his loved ones and to many friends.

He was a man greatly liked by all who knew him. Cut off in his young manhood of usefulness he was not unprepared for the change. He was a devout Christian and expressed his perfect confidence in a higher and better life.

MANY CANTALOUPES SHIPPED

Fruit Growers' Express Closes Most Successful Season—Mr. G. H. Hobe Leaves for Michigan.

More than 500 cars of cantaloupes were shipped North under refrigeration from the Bennettsville and Fayetteville sections and over a hundred cars from the Wilmington & Weldon road by the Fruit Growers' Express during the present season which is just closing. There were many more shipped in open cars and in every respect the season was a great success. The prices held up well and the quality was all that could be desired.

Mr. G. H. Hobe, local agent of the Fruit Growers' Express, said yesterday that the present season was by far the most successful in the history of this organization. While the bulk of the movement is over a few cars are still being shipped. Four cars were loaded in this territory yesterday for Northern markets.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobe leave tonight for Grand Rapids, Mich., where Mr. Hobe will have charge of the movement of the fruits and vegetables from that section. Just now cherries are being shipped from that section in large quantities and peaches are also an important item.

The shipping season in Michigan will last for several months yet. Mr. Hobe expects to return to Wilmington next spring and during his absence the local office will be closed, the shipping season for this section being practically ended. This is the first year Mr. Hobe has been in this territory and he has proven to be a most capable man. He is thoroughly acquainted with shipping conditions in general and has rendered very efficient service to shippers.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobe have made many friends during their residence in the city. They have been especially impressed with the cordial hospitality of the people of the Cape Fear section.

Moore, president of the battleground association, will preside at the exercises. One of the features of the occasion will be the reunion of Confederate veterans of the surrounding counties.

The railroads have made especially low rates to Currie, the nearest railroad point, and it is expected that there will be several thousand people in attendance.

ARRANGE FOR CELEBRATION

Only Two More Days Before Feast of Lanterns at Wrightsville Beach. Names of Marshals.

Final arrangements for the Feast of Lanterns at Wrightsville Beach Friday night were completed at a meeting of the general committee on entertainment at the Hanover Inn last night. Chairman H. E. Bonitz presided at the meeting and the various sub-committees made their reports which were approved. The programme for the occasion was outlined. All were highly pleased to find everyone so enthusiastic over the celebration which it is proposed to make the biggest thing of its kind ever given in this section.

As previously announced, Mr. W. C. Denny will be chief marshal and Mr. R. H. Grant will be assistant marshal. The marshals are Messrs. Herbert O'Neil, E. Fred Banck, J. F. Roache, J. H. Niggel, J. W. Williamson, William Parsley, Horace D. Springer, Albert Solomon, Arthur Bluethenthal, J. L. Williams, Wm. A. Lord, Jno. Dosher, Jr., Harry Solomon, A. O. Schuster, Thos. J. Moore, Albert Perry, T. E. Brown and John Bonitz.

Work on the electrical tower, which will be located in Banks Channel near Station Two, is progressing rapidly and will be completed in ample time for the celebration. This will present a very beautiful appearance. The lights will be turned on at 8 o'clock Friday night and it is hoped that as many Wilmington people as can conveniently do so will be at the beach before that time in order to enjoy the effect.

One of the attractive features of the celebration will be the boat parade which will leave the Oceanic Hotel at 8:15 o'clock and will proceed along the beach to Lumina. The Hanover concert band will occupy the launch leading the procession and will discourse lively music.

The grand march will start at the Oceanic Hotel at 9 o'clock. This will be led by Chief Marshal W. C. Denny followed by the band which will play martial music intermingled with patriotic airs. Those marching in the parade will be expected to join in the songs. The marshals will be attired in uniforms of white trousers and black coats and will look after the comfort of the children and see that the march is conducted in order.

Fire Chief Schnibben, of Wilmington, will have general supervision of the decorations and will see that there is no danger from fire. It is not expected that there will be any danger from this source, but it was thought wise to have firemen placed at intervals in order that should an emergency arise prompt action can be taken.

Members of the Goldsboro Fire Department who are spending their vacation at the beach have been invited by Chief Schnibben to participate in the festivities and have gladly accepted.

More than 75 cottages have signified their intention of decorating in gala attire for the occasion while practically all will be lighted with many beautiful Japanese lanterns. A committee composed of three visiting ladies, a lady from the beach and a gentleman either from the beach or from Wilmington, will award the prizes for the most beautifully decorated cottage. The first prize is a $5 gold piece and the second prize a $2.50 gold piece. The winners will be announced immediately after the parade reaches Lumina for the souvenir dance which is going to be one of the big features of the occasion.

Chairman Bonitz said last night that the coast guard cutter Seminole will be anchored off Lumina Friday evening and will be illuminated. The big search light will be used and this will add greatly to the picturesque effect.

One of the pretty features of the grand march will be a float in which there will be two little girls. This float will be drawn by a dozen or more young boys.

Last, but by no means least, Mr. Bonitz stated, one of the most attractive features of all will be the fair young ladies who visit the beach every summer in large numbers. They will be more numerous than ever before on Friday night.

MRS. WOODCOCK BADLY HURT.

Now Recovering from Injuries in Collision at Edgewood.

Mrs. W. P. Woodcock, who was seriously hurt last Friday night when a buggy in which she was riding collided with an automobile which was being driven by Mr. Arthur Branch, is rapidly recovering. Mrs. Woodcock and her niece, Miss Mamie Woodcock, of Atkinson, were visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. F. Stanland, at Seagate. Mr. James Allen went down in a buggy to bring them back to the city and when near Edgewood, a suburb of Wilmington, saw something coming which he took to be two bicycles but which in reality was an automobile. The buggy was overturned and the occupants were thrown into the ditch. While Mrs. Woodcock was painfully hurt the others suffered only slight bruises.

Friends rendered such assistance as they could and the injured persons were then brought to the city and medical attention was then secured. They appreciate very much the splendid manner in which their friends aided them.

BETTER LIGHTING SYSTEM

Contemplated Improvements for Wilmington Postoffice Will Cost Approximately $5,000.

Approximately $5,000 will be expended by the government in putting in a new electric lighting system for the Wilmington postoffice and in making other needed improvements, Postmaster H. McL. Green said yesterday. Mr. Rothrock, an inspector of the Treasury Department, was in Wilmington Monday and went over the contemplated improvements with Mr. Green. It is understood that his report will be favorable and in the event that it is accepted by the officials of the department, work will likely begin some time in September.

The present lighting system is very unsatisfactory and in order to bring it up to the highest standard it will be necessary to put in new wires as well as other equipment. This will be the biggest item in the proposed improvements. Several new radiators will be installed and four electric fans will be placed in the main office, making it very much more pleasant for the clerks and carriers who have to work there.

Plans for the proposed improvements have already been made. Mr. Rothrock made a thorough inspection of the building and went into all the details. He went to Goldsboro Monday night and from this point will go to Kinston and then to Norfolk before returning to Washington.

HEAVY RAIN FELL YESTERDAY MORNING.

Moderate Temperature—Ocean Too Rough for Bathing at Beach.

Nearly two inches of rain fell yesterday morning breaking the dry spell that had set in after the series of rains that fell during the early part of July. Yesterday's temperature was at about its height at 8 o'clock in the morning, being 82 degrees, the maximum for the day being only 85. The minimum was 72 and the mean 78.

The sea was so rough yesterday afternoon at Wrightsville Beach that the bath houses for the public were closed, as it was thought dangerous to allow people to go out.

GENUINE ECZEMA REMEDY

New Remedy That Heals Eczema Quickly.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. has sold hundreds of jars of Hokara, and although they offered to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied purchaser not one jar has been returned.

While this is surprising in itself, yet the most marvelous thing is the reports of chronic cases of exzema that have been cured by this simple skin food. People who have suffered with scales, scabs and even bleeding itching have found relief in Hokara.

No matter where the eczema, pimples or other breaking out occurs, whether on the face, hands, legs or body, the application of Hokara should give quick relief, ann even the worst or most chronic cases shouls be cured in a short time.

Yoo can buy a liberal-sized jar to-day at the very low price of 25c, and with every package goes J. Hicks Bonting Drug Company's goarantee to refnne the mopey if it is not satisfactory.

To Those Who Would Name A Personal Friend As Executor and Trustee

Often it is desired to keep an estate under the supervision of a friend or member of the family, and yet avoid the dangers of individual trusteeship, such as illness, death or other circumstances that may impair the estate.

This may easily be accomplished by naming The People's Savings Bank as co-executor and co-trustee.

Such a precaution is particularly advisable when a wife or other woman relative is to be executrix and trustee, because the Bank can relieve her entirely of the heavy responsibilities and arduous details, as it has an unexcelled organization and wide experience in handling personal trusts.

Miss Betty Lee will present again some of her charming song specialties at Lumina tonight. Miss Lee does not announce her programme in advance, but whatever be her choice of songs her hearers can rest assured they will be treated to a most delightful performance. Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wade and handsome little daughter, Isabelle, have gone to Wrightsville Beach to spend several weeks.——Miss Sarah Postlethwaite, of Chattanooga, Tenn., is the guest of Mrs. L. L. Then there will be a Vitagraph farce comedy, "Jane Was Worth It," in which Jane, being a good cook, finds the way to a man's heart. Edito Storey and Hughie Mack appear in this picture. The final picture on the great comedy programme is a Ham and Bud comedy entitled "The Liberty Party."

MISS BETTY LEE PLEASES AUDIENCE WITH SINGING.

Miss Betty Lee, with her delightful singing, enjoyed another success at Lumina last night. The first number on her programme was Harry Israel's "Marie, My Own Marie." This is a very dainty bit and was sung in faultless style. For an encore she sang "My Old Kentucky Home." (McDonaldson), which she repeated a second time. This last is a type of Southern melody in which Miss Lee particularly excels. Miss Lee believes in getting in close touch with her audience, as it were, and last night she managed this very cleverly by walking around the ball room floor as she sang her songs, singing directly to different groups in the audience. This was a very effective bit of work and seemed to please her hearers immensely.

Last night the singer was very fetchingly attired in a black evening gown. Considering the weather her audience was a very large one.

WILSON IN COMMUNICATION WITH SECRETARY LANSING

Concerning Mexican Situation and Other Foreign Questions

Cornish, N. H., Aug 3.—President Wilson was in communication with Secretary Lansing today regarding the Mexican situation and other foreign questions. It was said at the "summer White House" tonight that arrangements for the preliminary conference of South and Central American diplomatic representatives regarding Mexican affairs were being handled directly by Mr. Lansing.

The President is handling his communication with Secretary Lansing personally.

The President set to work late this morning, because of the presence here of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo, but after their departure for their summer home at North Haven, Maine, he went to his study. This afternoon he failed to take his usual automobile ride because of the arrival here of Mrs. Anne Howe, his sister, Professor George Howe of North Carolina University, his nephew, Mrs. Anne Cothran, his niece and Josephine Cothran a small grand niece. He spent the entire evening talking with them at Harlakenden House.

WORLD'S CONSUMPTION OF COTTON 14,134,000 BALES.

Little Les of American Staple Used Than in Previous Year.

New Orleans, Aug. 3.—World consumption of American grown cotton during the season ended July 31 amounted to 14,134,000 bales, according to a statement issued today by Secretary G. B. Hester, of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange. During the preceding season, consumption amounted to 14,541,000 bales.

The falling off was entirely among foreign mills, American consumption being at a record rate. The Northern mills consumed 2,618,000 bales against 2,571 last pear; the Southern mills, 3,163,000 against 2,063,000, and foreign mills 8,353,000 bales against 8,907,000.

The total visible and invisible supply of American cotton at the end of the year was counted as 5,329,000 bales, the largest on record.

THEATRICAL

Stop look and listen: to what the Grand management has to say about the greatest five cent four real feature ever shown in Wilmington. It comes to the Grand in the regular run of daily service through the General Film programme, "Midnight at Maxine's" comes to the people of this city as a treat from the Kalem company, who is second to none when it comes to producing fine pictures. See it today, seeing is believing. Practically every person in this city has heard of Maxine's New York's most famous cabaret. The stories that have been told of it's gaiety and its gorgeousness have filled the hearers with the desire to visit the place. But, since this is not always possible, Kalem Company has produced a four-act "Broadway Favorites" feature which practically brings Maxine's together with its beautiful girls and its fascinating dances, to this city. In fact Kalem has done more than to just bring Maxine's to this city, because in producing this feature it combined the Maxim, Rector and Bustanoby shows, using the best features of each, and, in addition, engaged famous vaudeville headliners to do their specialties before the camera. Among these performers are Baroness Irmgard Von Rottenthal, Leo Pirnikoff and Ethel Ross, the Cameron Girls and Bert Western and Dorothy Ozuman. Better come early if you want to make sure of a good seat.

Tomorrow Daniel Frohman presents May Iewin the distinguished comedienne, in her greatest comedy success "Mrs. Black is Black" by George V. Hobert. Its a Paramount That's all.

Friday, The Serial beautiful "The Goddess" third installment with Beautiful Anita Stewart and Handsome Earle Williams .

"The Diamond from the Sky."

Lottie Pickford, the beautiful younger sister of the peerless Mary, has indeed selected a great vehicle for her first big film appearance, although she has made a great reputation upon the legitimate stage already. Many say that Lottie is even more beautiful than "Little Mary". Without doubt her beauty is of a more striking nature, and will no doubt meet with as great a reception as has been given her older sister.

"The Diamond from the Sky", which makes its initial bow to Wilmington at the Bijou today, has been adjudged by critics to be the most wonderful serial photoplay yet released. It grips one right from the start, and one can almost read it as if they were reading a smoothly written "best seller." Much of this is due to the fact that the scenes are laid right in our own country and that the action and incidents have a modern and familiar atmosphere, with nothing overdrawn, which would force the spectator to exercise his imaginative faculties. Lottie Pickford will win instantaneous success as Esther Stanley, with her sweet, youthful, girlish face and delightful manner—the role of an innocent Virginia maiden. Irving Cummings and Wm. Russell make fine opposites, and have given the picture some of the most tremendous thrills ever incorporated in a movie. One in particular is where, in his automobile he plunges in front of a fast passenger train with a recklessness that makes one gasp. The rear of his car was shorn off as if by a sharp knife. The great culminating act of recklessness occurs when he plunges his car over an 80-foot precipice into the river, jumping as the car left the roadway. This, the great punch, occurs in the third chapter.

BILLIE RITCHIE.
Extra Attraction, With "The Diamond from the Sky," at the Bijou Today.

Billie Ritchie's here again, in a great three-reeler, "The Doomed Hero." Bill has 'em all lashed to the mast when it comes to making the laughs grow where none grew before, and is the one unadulterated fun maker whose stuff is original. Billie was making them laugh when Charlie Chaplin and the other would-be funny guys were toddling around the nursery giddapping their hobby horses. But you don't want to miss "A Doomed Hero"—no, not by any means. It starts at 11 this morning, too.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The case against L. H. Carter, better known as "Kit" Carter, white, in which he was charged with larceny by trick, was dismissed by Justice Harriss yesterday on account of lack of evidence.

—Mary Jane Donaldson, colored, wife of Mills Donaldson, died at her home, No. 824 Miller street, yesterday morning. The funeral will take place from St. Stephen's A. M. E. church this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

GREAT BRITAIN JUSTIFIES INTERFERENCE WITH NEUTRAL TRADE

the United States and British governments took the broader view and recognized the development of the older method of blockade. No protest was made by Great Britain.

"What is really important, in the general interest," says the note, "is that adaptions of the old rules should not be made unless they are consistent with the general principles upon which an admitted belligerent right is based. It is also essential that all unnecessary injury to neutrals should be avoided. With these conditions it may be safely affirmed that the steps we are taking to intercept commodities on their way to and from Germany fully comply. We are interfering with no goods with which we should not be entitled to interfere by blockade if the geographical position and the conditions of Germany at present were such that her commerce passed through her own ports. We are taking the utmost possible care not to interfere with commerce genuinely destined for or proceding from neutral countries. Furthermore, we have tempered the severity with which our measures might press upon neutrals, but not applying the rule which was invariable in the old form of blockade, that ships and goods on their way to or from the blockaded area are liable to condemnation."

Various Forms of Blockade

The note then reviews at some length the various forms in which blockades have been maintained to show there has been no uniformity of practice inevery essential point and declares:

"The one principle which is fundamental and has obtained universal recognition is that by means of blockade a belligerent is entitled to cut off by effective means the seaborne commerce of his enemy".

Consequently, Sir Edward argues, it is impossible to maintain that the right of a belligerent to intercept the commerce of his enemy can be limited in the way suggested in the American notes on the subject.

"There are many cases", he says, "in which proofs that the goods were enemy property would afford strong evidence that they were of enemy origin or enemy destination and it is only in such cases that we are detaining them. Where proof of enemy ownership would afford no evidence of such origin or destination, we are not in practice of detaining the goods".

Loss More Than Compensated for

Sir Edward's note closes with the observation "that figures of recent months show that the increased opportunities afforded by the war for American commerce have more than compensated for the loss of the German and Austrian markets. * * * * We shall continue to apply these measures with every desire to occasion the least possible amount of inconvenience to persons engaged in legitimate commerce".

Reply to American Caveat

In the supplemental note which is a reply to the American caveat giving notice that the United States would not recognize the orders in council in lieu of international law, Sir Edward Grey writes he does "not understand to what divergence of views as to the principles of law applicable in cases before the prize court the government of the United States refer, for I am not aware of any differences existing between the two countries as to the principles of law applicable in cases before such courts".

Sir Edward compares the rules governing British prize courts to the rules applied by American courts, referring especially to the American case of the Amy Warwick before the United States Supreme Court, where it was held that "prize courts are subject to the instructions of their own sovereign. In the absence of such instructions, their jurisdiction and rules of decision are to be ascertained by reference to the known powers of such tribunals and the principles by which they are governed under the public law and the practice of nations. It would appear, therefore, that the principles applied by the prize courts of the two countries are identical".

Long Legal Argument

The supplemental note then proceeds with a long legal argument to demonstrate the practicability of a prize court being governed by international law and at the same time by municipal law in the form of orders in council. It finally comes to the case of the steamer Zamora in the present war, in which the British court declared:

"The nations of the world need not be apprehensive that orders in council will emanate from the government of this country in such violation of the acknowledged laws of nations that it is conceivable that our prize tribunals, holding the law of nations in reverence would feel called upon to disregard and refuse obedience to the provisions of such orders".

International Arbitration

Sir Edward then points out that the legality of the orders in council or of the measures taken under them have not yet been brought to a decision in a prize court, but he reminds the United States that "it is open to any United States citizen whose claim is before the prize court to contend that any order in council which may effect his claim is inconsistent with the principles of international law and, therefore, is not binding upon the court. If the prize court declines to accept his

UP THE HILL; DOWN AGAIN

Early Advance of at Least 10 Points in Cotton Followed by Reaction—Net Gain Small.

New York, Aug. 3.—An early advance was followed by reactions in the cotton market during today's trading, with the close steady at a net gain of only 1 to 3 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 12 to 14 points in response to relatively firm cables, while the failure of the weather map to show as much rain in the South as suggested by some of yesterday's late private reports, also seemed to inspire some scattered covering. The western belt forecast for generally fair weather helped the tone of the market, but demand tapered off at the close abroad, and prices later turned easier under liquidation by early buyers or a renewal of local selling based on the detailed weather reports, which showed more rain than foreshadowed by the eanrly map, and indicated that drouth had been pretty well broken in South Carolina and Arkansas and that important sections had been relieved in Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina and parts of Texas. The selling did not become active enough to suggest any material change in the spot situation or any general disposition to hedge new crop cotton, and after easing off to a net loss of a point or two, the market steadied slightly in the late trading on covering. Liverpool buying here was generally attributed to the undoing of straddles rather than to hedge purchases against forward neds, or fresh operations for long account.

The futures market closed steady.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Market Advances 10 Points But Loses Most of Gain.

New Orleans, Auf. 3.—While cotton made a ten-point advance in the early trading today, it fell off later and closed at a net rise of only 1 to 3 points. This was within 3 points of the lowest.

The initial buldge was in the bullish showing of the Liverpool market. After the selling had spent itself, offerings increased as the result of reports of scattered powers over the belt. Prospects of more rain prevented the demand increasing later in the day.

Annual statistics announced today exerted no influence on prices. The season's consumption of 14,134,000 bales was larger than expected, but, at the same time, the visible and invisible supply of 5,329,000 bales broke all records.

Cotton futures closing: October, 9.10; December, 9.36; January, 9.46; March, 9.70.

Spot cotton steady and unchanged. Middling, 8.69; sales on the spot 550 bales; to arrive 50.

ADVANCE IN MANY STOCKS

Upturn of Unusual Breadth, Spreading Well Over the List—Close Not So High.

New York, Aug. 3.—An advance of unusual breadth occurred today in the stock market and although quotations were below the day's best at the close net changes showed an upturn of good proportions spread well over the list. The advance apparently derived its impetus from the same sort of speculation that brought about last week's remarkable rise. Trading was heavy throughout the morning, but in the later hours the market became quiet.

The marking up of quotations began in the war shares which were in increased favor, in the belief that heavy profit taking sales and the closing out of weak lines in these shares on their recent slump had strengthened their position. Bethlehem steel was put up 17 points to 275, equalling its high record, and in a few other instances of top figures were reached, although no other stock approached Bethlehem steel in extent of movement. The display of strength made by the war stocks stimulated buying elsewhere and soon the whole market was rising. In the late reaction Bethlehem steel fell back 7 points and Crucible steel 4.

Oil shares made a particularly good showing, on the advance in oil prices. Fertilizers, motors and various other industrials showed an increased demand, responding to optimistic trade reports. The breadth of the movement in the rail road stocks was one of the most significant developments of the day, reflecting the improving exhibits of earnings. Net earnings of the railroads of the country in June increased by about 15 per cent over the previous year.

Bonds were firm. International mercantile marine 4 1-2s and Rock Island debentures were especially strong. Total sales par value $2,750,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

ERIE, PA., FLOODED BY A CLOUDBURST

Twenty-Five Lives Lost; Millions in Property Damage.

CITY IS IN DARKNESS

Impossible to Ascertain Exact Number of Dead in Pennsylvania City Last Night—Many Are Imprisoned in Houses.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 3.—Twenty-five lives lost, as estimated by the police, millions of dollars in property damage and the city in total darkness tonight, is the result of a cloudburst early tonight that culminated in a flood that inundated a large section of the city.

The heavy precipitation caused dams south of the city to burst, flooding the main business streets to a depth of five feet and in some sections reaching to the second story windows of dwellings. Among the first plants put out of commission was the Erie County Electric Company, which supplied the city with light. Then the plant of the Erie Dispatch, a morning paper, was flooded.

The first bulletin of the flood was sent to the outside world by the Associated Press operator who waded in water up to his arm pits, to the Western Union telegraph office, five blocks away.

It is impossible tonight to ascertain how many actually have lost their lives. Many are still imprisoned in houses, and the rescuers led by Mayor Stern and city councilmen have been unable to get them out.

The entire eastern section of the city is cut off by the water and what conditions prevail in the center of this district cannot be conjectured.

Among the missing are Assistant Fire Chief James Buernon and four firemen. Reports were made to the police that a house floated down Mill Creek with four women and three children clinging to it. Buernon and the firemen lost their lives in an attempt to rescue them.

Every store in State street, the main business thoroughfare, is flooded, and fifty houses are reported washed away.

The Jarecki Manufacturing plant has been washed away, and 20 automobiles in the garages went with them.

A little girl standing on the banks of Mill Creek was carried to death when the bank caved in.

Wreckage Piled High

John Higgins, of 207 East 8th street, was the first victim recovered whose body was identified.

Wreckage is piled 70 feet high in the heart of the city and at midnight the water had receded somewhat but the estimate of 25 dead was still maintained.

The flood started at 28th street and came down Mill creek. The stream rose four feet in five minutes and then the onrush of water came so fast it was impossible to estimate its speed. Houses were torn from their foundations.

The worst congestion came at Ninth street in the center of the city. Half a dozen houses here were piled up in the path of the waters. Scores of people are still inside these houses and under the debris at that point. Whether they are alive is not known.

The rain that preceded the flood started with a heavy thundershower at 4 o'clock. The water in Mill creek began to rise at 7 o'clock. It appeared dangerous, but people living along the stream refused to leave their homes. By 8 o'clock the people began to move out but by 8:30 the full force of the flood struck those who tarried.

For 26 blocks the water raced. State street is a river. Life savers have been called from the life saving stations on Lake Erie and firemen and policemen under direction of Mayor Stern are making every effort to rescue the imperilled.

Distressing Scenes

Three hundred flood suffers were housed in the national guard armory. Little children separated from parents and parents frantically searching for children were huddled together.

The Erie Dry Goods Company opened its doors and began distributing clothing to the flood sufferers.

About 200 persons are housed in the City Rescue Mission and hospitals and other charitable institutions have opened their doors.

It was estimated at midnight that 2,000 persons were made homeless by the floods.

Telephone service was so crippled that the work of relieving the distressed and rescue was seriously impeded. Boats are being used in the flooded district but late tonight none had been able to penetrate the center of it because of the rush of water.

At midnight it was believed the flood had passed its crest.

RICHMOND STORM-SWEPT.

More Than Three Inches of Rain; Damage Half a Million.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 3.—With a rainfall of more than three inches, accompanied by a high wind, Richmond was storm-swept tonight and damage estimated at more than $500,000 has been done. Three buildings in the business district collapsed and a large number of small dwellings in the low grounds were swept away. Wire communication has been badly interfered with.

No deaths have been reported but there were a number of heroic rescues from houses in the low ground flooded by the waters of the Shockoe Creek, which runs through the center of the city. Main street for many squares around the Chesapeake & Ohio railway station was under five feet of wate and many stores in this district were under the flood. The water is receding very rapidly and by morning will have reached normal.

contentions, and if, after such a decision has been upheld on appeal by the judicial committee of His Majesty's privy council, the government of the United States consider that there is serious ground for holding that the decision is incorrect and infringes the rights of their citizens, it is open to them to claim that it should be subjected to review by an international tribunal".

The celebrated Matamoros cases of the Civil war are cited to show that the Supreme Court of the United States held that it had the right to reverse the decision of prize courts and that "there was no doubt of the jurisdiction of an international tribunal to review the decisions of the prize courts of the United States, where the parties alleging themselves aggrieved had prosecuted their appeals to the court of last resort".

If the United States should be dissatisfied with decisions of British prize courts as sustained by the privy council, the British government is prepared to concert with the United States "in order to decide upon the best way of applying the * * * principle to the situation which would then have arisen".

Reply to Neches Note.

To the American note in the case of the steamer Neches, which summarily demanded the expeditious release of the American owned goods detained under the orders in council, "the international invalidity of which the government of the United States regards as plainly illustrated by the present instance," Great Britain replies that "while these acts of the German government continue (sinking neutral as well as British merchant ships irrespective of destination or origin of cargo and without proper regard for safety of passengers or crews) it seems neither reasonable nor just that His Majesty's government should be pressed to abandon the rights claimed in the British note * * * and to allow goods from Germany to pass freely through waters effectively patrolled by British ships of war."

Great Britain offers, however, to make a special examination in the Neches case if hardship has been inflicted.

The British reply, in short, is a declination to allow free passage to goods originating in Germany or in a territory under German control.

tofore acknowledged principles of international law and that "for America it is now plain that in any emergency involving her interests there is no law of nations that can be relied on for any benefit or advantage." Senator Lewis led up to his predictions by endeavoring to show that by retaining the Philippine Islands, the United States had itself violated "that prime rule of international law—the departure from her own zone and entering that of another."

"It is the violation of this principle and its consequences which is today the great danger of America's republican institutions," he said.

Previous to entering the Philippines, he asserted, our right to deny the right of Chinese and Japanese "to enter into our civilization", was not disputed, but thereafter it was natural that "these Asiatics should turn to us and say that by all the laws of nations we must give what we take and that as we had come into Asia with our people they had the right to come into America with theirs", This situation, he said, was the real reason for President Roosevelt's action "in taking over the Panama Canal territory at a time when Japan had just emerged successfully from her war with Russia."

"Our Real Situation"

"A moment's view restores us to a sense of our real situation", he concluded. "With South America suspicious of our methods, lest it mean conquest under the guise of the Monroe Doctrine; Mexico regarding us as disturbers and usurpers; we are at once surrounded with enemies ,not because of their enmity, but because of their misunderstandings. Should conflict arise in the Orient from which it were necessary to defend ourselves in Asiatic spheres we can see that before the Atlantic fleet could pass through the canal, the canal would be blown into atoms through the operation of those nations now bordering it, who would cooperate with our enemies for the gratification of real or imagined grievances. And all of this a legitimate inheritance from the violation by ourselves of the fundamental international law that ordained all republics and the theory of republics to their own zone".

"If we persist in the violation of this fundamental law of nations and continue to press our disadvantage against the sure fate of its consequences then let us promptly embark upon the era of army and navy in quantity and quality, sufficient to defend us against invasion and to protect our possessions. This latter undertaking is too stupendous in expense and sacrifice to be entered upon, if there is a nobler and more consistent course for the Republic of the United States to take. I propose an alternative. I propose we return the government of the United States within her own borders. * * *and in conjunction with this promptly let us to call to council all the governments of South Amtrica and their sisters of the southern seas. Then b yalliances with the South American republics make common cause for the protection of republican form of government in the western hemisphere. Have joint alliance of friendship by declaring that our Monroe Doctrine shall be meant in no wise to interfere with the purely internal affairs of the South American lands, but that it shall be limited to the protection of the western hemisphere by the United States against any effort on the part of monarchial nations to overcome by force any republic or free people in the western hemisphere. Then, in turn for this guarantee, have a brotherhood compact with all the western hemisphere republics that we mutually will oppose any invasion by Europe or Asia of this continent, or any entrance by them as governments upon the sphere of republics, except as shall be in pursuance of the spirit of treaties previously made. Then ,add to this compact a demand calling for open seas to all people and an exchange of products of nations upon equal terms to all people. Then we, restored to the principles of American republics, can announce the doctrines of international law to the world, suggesting the terms of amity and the codes of law. * * *

"We will then stand as American—one continent ,united for republican government by republican form and democratic spirit."

War News at a Glance

Although the Germans and Austrians along the great battle front in Poland are declared by Berlin to be continuing their maneuvers having in view the envelopment of Warsaw, the governor general of the Polish capital was at his post as recently as Sunday last and military circles there were of the belief that if the Russian line held a week longer the city would never be evacuated.

Further advances for the Germans and Austrians along the eastern bank of the Vistula in the Ivangorod and Nowo Alexandria sections and in the Chelm-Lublin region to the southeast, are recorded by Berlin. A large number of prisoners and numerous cannon have been taken by the Teutons.

In France and Belgium there have been severe infantry attacks, hand grenade fighting and sapping operations. Berlin asserts that in the Argonne, French trenches were captured and that in Champagne the borders of craters caused by mine explosions were occupied by the Germans. Paris asserts that the mine explosions did no damage to the French trenches.

Bad weather is hindering operations on the Austro-Italian fronts. Unofficial Italian advices are to the effect that the Italians continue to make progress near Roverito, in the Arsa valley and on the Carso plateau.

In the Carso region it is asserted that an Austrian regiment was virtually wiped out in an attempt to retake positions they lost.

The fighting continues on the Gallipoli frontier, the Australian and New Zealand troops, according to Sir Ian Hamilton, attacked and captured a network of Turkish trenches which gave them a crest of a hill which materially improves the allied position in this sector of the line.

On the other hand, the Turks report that an allied attack near Ari Burnu was put down with heavy casualties.

SPORTS FOR FIRE LADDIES.

Baseball and Boat Races to be Enjoyed at Newbern Tournament.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 3.—Baseball fans, both local and visiting, will have an opportunity of seeing some first class ball playing here during the week of the State Firemen's Tournament. Arrangements have been made by the City League to play with teams from Washington, Aurora, Morehead City and other points and a game will take place each afternoon. It was thought for a while that one of the teams in the Virginia League would be secured for the week, but it has been decided not to do this. Each afternoon during the time that the firemen are in the city there will be a game.

Many of the firemen from up the State have never had the pleasure or the thrills of witnessing a boat race. For their benefit a speed test of water craft will be held one afternoon during the ewek and some of the fastest craft in North Carolina will be entered. Thirty miles an hour on land is considered pretty slow time, but 30 miles an hour in the water is, speaking figuratively, going some, yet there will be boats entered in the races than can make that time and then have some left.

GOMPERS WRITES WILSON ABOUT THE EASTLAND INVESTIGATION

Wants it Conducted by Commission of Disinterested Citizens

Washington, Aug 3.—In a letter addressed to President Wilson and made public tonight, Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, urges that federal investigation of the Eastland disaster at Chicago be conducted by "a comission of disinterested, fair-minded citizens".

The letter states that the attention of the government had been drawn to six charges against inspectors on the Great Lakes a year ago by the Chicago federation of labor which also reported overcrowding of excursion steamers on the lakes.

"There is a vicious circle which virtually renders ineffective regulations and legislation that is entrusted to inspectors," the letter adds. "A mysterious influence has always operated for the elimination of all inspectors who perform their duty without regard for the favor of the shipping interests".

JUDGE LINDSEY FOUND GUILTY

Charged With Contempt of Court—Will Appeal From Judgement

Denver, Colo. Aug 3.—Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of the Denver juvenile court, was found guilty of contempt of court today by District Judge John A. Perry. Sentence was deferred.

The contempt case resulted from the juvenile courts judge refusal to repeat on the witness stand what he claimed was a confidental conversation with Neal Wright, 13, whoes testimony had much to do with the acquittal of his mother Mrs. Berta Wright, charged with the murder of her husband.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Aug 3.—Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court stated tonight that he had directed his lawyers in Denver to appeal from the judgement of district Judge John A. Perry, who found Judge Lindsey guilty of contempt in the Wright case.

Judge Lindsey plans to return to Denver about September 1.

ORESTE ZAMOR, FORMER PRESIDENT OF HAYTI, SHOT DEAD IN PRISON

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK. DON'T STAY BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Will Clean Your Sluggish Liver Better Than Calomel and Can Not Salivate.

Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is quicksilver and it salivates; calomel injures your liver.

If you are bilious; feel lazy, sluggish and all knocked out, if your bowels are constipated and your head aches or stomach is sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone instead of using sickening, salivating calomel. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and bowels regular. You will feel like working. You'll be cheerful; full of energy, vigor and ambition.

Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal guarantee that it will clean your sluggish liver better than nasty calomel; it won't make you sick and you can eat anything you want without being salivated. Your druggist guarantees that each spoonful will start your liver, clean your bowels and straighten you up by morning or you get your money back. Children gladly take Dodson's Liver Tone because it is pleasant tasting and doesn't gripe or cramp or make them sick.

I am selling millions of bottles of Dodson's Liver Tone to people who have found that this pleasant, vegetable, liver medicine takes the place of dangerous calomel. Buy one bottle on my sound, reliable guarantee. Ask your druggist about me.

GERMAN-AMERICANS SAY PRESS IS "UNFAIRLY PRO-BRITISH."

Many Matters of Interest Considered by National Convention.

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—Protection of personal liberties; the endorsement of national and state employment bureaus, a rural credits system and condemnation of the alleged pro-British tendencies of part of the American press, occupied the attention today of the German-American Alliance in its eighth biennial convention here.

There was no reference to nation-wide prohibition beyond the adoption of a resolution condemning "the enactment of numerous laws affecting personal liberty in practically every state of the union."

Reports of the American press were branded as "unfairly pro-British," guided by "monolingual lines of least resistance," in a resolution which was adopted appealing to newspapers and news agencies generally to be fair and unbiased.

STOUTLY DENIES CHARGE.

Duplin Man Charged With Robbing Mails Confident of Outcome.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 3.—One of the most interesting cases to be disposed of by Judge H. G. Connor at the next term of Federal Court to be held in this city will be that in which F. A. Jones, a young white man of Duplin county, is charged with having robbed the United States mails. Jones, who was carrying a route out from Pink Hill, is said to have taken a box of candy and several letters containing money and checks. He stoutly denies the charge against him and declares that he will be able to prove that he is innocent. He is now at liberty, having given bail for his appearance in the sum of $200.

San Francisco, Aug. 3. — Definite announcement that the trans-Pacific service of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company would cease November 2, withdrawing from foreign trade the largest American fleet engaged in such commerce, was made today by A. J. Frey, assistant to the general manager.

New York, Aug. 3.—The threatened strike of 60,000 members of the International Ladies' Garment Yorkers' Union in Greater New York will not go into effect tomorrow as planned by union leaders, it was announced tonight by Morris Hillquit, representing the workers.
